

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Life Discovery Psych

Website: lifediscoverypsych.com

Last Updated: August 11, 2026

1. Acceptance of Terms

Welcome to Life Discovery Psych. These Terms and Conditions ("Terms") govern your access to and use of lifediscoverypsych.com (the "Website") and the information, features, resources, appointment-request functionality, and other services made available through the Website.

By accessing or using this Website, you acknowledge that you have read, understood, and agree to be bound by these Terms. If you do not agree with these Terms, please discontinue use of the Website.

These Terms apply only to your use of the Website. Clinical services provided by Life Discovery Psych may be subject to additional agreements, informed consent documents, privacy notices, telehealth agreements, payment policies, and other documents provided separately to clients.

2. About Life Discovery Psych

Life Discovery Psych provides mental health information and professional services, including therapy and counseling services, with a particular focus on sex therapy and related areas of mental and emotional health.

The Website is intended to provide general information regarding Life Discovery Psych, its providers, areas of practice, educational resources, and available services and to facilitate communication and appointment requests.

Information presented on the Website is not intended to replace individualized evaluation, diagnosis, treatment, or advice from a qualified healthcare or mental health professional.

3. No Therapist-Client Relationship Through Website Use

Your access to or use of this Website does not, by itself, establish a therapist-client, psychologist-client, counselor-client, physician-patient, or other healthcare provider relationship with Life Discovery Psych or any professional associated with the practice.

Such a professional relationship is established only after appropriate intake procedures have been completed, the practice has agreed to provide services, any required consent or service agreements have been executed, and other applicable professional requirements have been satisfied.

Submitting an appointment request, contact form, email, or other communication through the Website does not guarantee acceptance as a client or establish a professional relationship.

4. Educational and Informational Purposes

Content available through the Website may discuss mental health, relationships, sexuality, sexual health, sex therapy, emotional well-being, behavioral health, and related topics.

This information is provided for general educational and informational purposes only.

Website content should not be considered:

- Medical advice;
- Psychological or psychiatric advice;
- A diagnosis;
- A treatment recommendation;
- A substitute for therapy or counseling;
- A substitute for consultation with a licensed healthcare professional; or
- A guarantee regarding the results of any treatment or therapeutic approach.

Mental health and healthcare decisions should be made in consultation with appropriately qualified professionals familiar with your individual circumstances.

5. Sensitive and Sexual-Health Content

Because Life Discovery Psych provides information concerning sex therapy, sexuality, relationships, intimacy, and related mental-health topics, some Website content may discuss mature or sensitive subjects.

Such information is presented for legitimate educational, therapeutic, and professional purposes and should be interpreted within that context.

Users are responsible for determining whether particular Website content is appropriate for them.

6. Emergency and Crisis Situations

The Website, its contact forms, appointment-request systems, email addresses, and other electronic communications are not intended for emergencies or crisis situations.

Do not use the Website to request emergency assistance or communicate an urgent mental-health or medical situation.

If you believe you or another person is experiencing an immediate medical or mental-health emergency, is in immediate danger, or may cause harm to themselves or another person, contact appropriate emergency services immediately.

Electronic communications and appointment requests submitted through the Website may not be reviewed immediately.

7. Appointment Requests

The Website may allow users to request appointments or consultations.

Submitting an appointment request does not guarantee that an appointment has been scheduled. An appointment is confirmed only after Life Discovery Psych or its authorized scheduling system provides confirmation.

Life Discovery Psych reserves the right to accept, decline, reschedule, or cancel appointment requests as permitted by applicable law and professional obligations.

Users are responsible for providing accurate and current contact and scheduling information.

8. Telehealth Services

Life Discovery Psych may provide certain services through telehealth or other electronic communication technologies.

Telehealth services are subject to applicable federal and state laws, professional licensing requirements, provider availability, geographic restrictions, informed-consent requirements, and clinical appropriateness.

Availability of information about telehealth services on this Website does not mean that Life Discovery Psych or a particular provider is legally authorized or clinically able to provide telehealth services to every person or in every location.

Before telehealth services begin, clients may be required to complete additional consent forms, verify their identity and physical location, provide emergency contact information, and comply with other requirements.

Telehealth involves benefits and limitations that may differ from in-person services, including limitations involving technology, connectivity, privacy, security, and the provider's ability to respond to emergencies remotely.

9. Professional Licensure and Geographic Limitations

Mental-health professionals are generally subject to licensing and professional requirements that may restrict where they may provide services.

Nothing on this Website should be interpreted as an offer to provide professional mental-health services in a jurisdiction where a Life Discovery Psych provider is not authorized to practice.

Eligibility for services may depend on the client's physical location at the time services are provided and other applicable legal and professional requirements.

10. Privacy and Confidentiality

Life Discovery Psych respects the privacy of individuals who use the Website and individuals who receive professional services from the practice.

Use of personal information submitted through the Website is subject to the applicable Privacy Policy and, where applicable, additional healthcare privacy notices or policies provided by Life Discovery Psych.

Users should understand that ordinary Website communications are different from communications occurring within an established professional relationship.

Do not submit unnecessary sensitive medical, psychological, financial, sexual-health, or other confidential information through general Website contact forms unless specifically instructed to do so through an appropriate secure method.

11. HIPAA and Protected Health Information

Certain information maintained by Life Discovery Psych in connection with healthcare services may constitute Protected Health Information ("PHI") and may be subject to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act ("HIPAA") and other applicable privacy laws.

Not every piece of information submitted through a public Website automatically constitutes PHI or is necessarily governed by HIPAA.

Where HIPAA applies, Life Discovery Psych will handle applicable information according to its legal obligations and its Notice of Privacy Practices.

The Website Terms are not intended to replace the practice's Notice of Privacy Practices or other legally required healthcare privacy documentation.

12. Electronic Communications

When you communicate with Life Discovery Psych electronically, including through email, Website forms, appointment-request systems, text messaging, or other electronic methods, you acknowledge that electronic communications may involve privacy and security risks.

Users should avoid transmitting highly sensitive information through ordinary email or unsecured communication channels.

Life Discovery Psych may use third-party technology providers to facilitate scheduling, communications, telehealth, Website hosting, forms, analytics, or other functions.

13. Accuracy of Information

Life Discovery Psych makes reasonable efforts to provide accurate and useful information. However, mental-health standards, laws, regulations, professional guidance, treatment approaches, insurance information, provider availability, and other information may change.

Life Discovery Psych does not warrant that all Website information will always be complete, accurate, current, or applicable to every individual.

Life Discovery Psych may modify, correct, remove, or update Website content at any time without notice.

14. No Guarantee of Results

Mental-health treatment and therapy are individualized processes, and outcomes vary from person to person.

Nothing on this Website constitutes a promise, warranty, or guarantee regarding the outcome of therapy, counseling, sex therapy, telehealth, or any other service.

Testimonials, examples, educational materials, descriptions of therapeutic approaches, or discussions of potential benefits should not be interpreted as guarantees that another person will experience the same results.

15. Insurance and Payment Information

If the Website contains information regarding insurance, fees, reimbursement, payment methods, or benefits, such information is provided for general informational purposes and may change.

Coverage and benefits are determined by individual insurance plans and carriers.

Users are responsible for verifying their coverage, deductibles, copayments, coinsurance, reimbursement eligibility, and other financial obligations directly with their insurance provider when applicable.

16. Intellectual Property

Unless otherwise indicated, the Website and its original content, including text, graphics, logos, designs, photographs, videos, educational materials, downloadable materials, branding, layout, and other content, are owned by or licensed to Life Discovery Psych and are protected by applicable intellectual-property laws.

You may access and use Website materials for personal, non-commercial informational purposes.

Without prior written authorization, you may not reproduce, republish, distribute, sell, license, modify, commercially exploit, or create derivative works from protected Website content except as otherwise permitted by law.

17. Permitted Use

You agree to use the Website only for lawful purposes.

You may not attempt to interfere with the Website's operation, gain unauthorized access to systems or information, introduce malicious software, circumvent security measures, impersonate another person, submit fraudulent information, scrape or systematically extract Website content without authorization, or use the Website in a manner that violates applicable law or the rights of others.

18. Third-Party Websites and Services

The Website may contain links to or integrations with third-party websites, scheduling platforms, telehealth systems, payment processors, maps, social networks, educational resources, or other services.

These third-party services operate independently from Life Discovery Psych and may have their own terms, privacy policies, and security practices.

Life Discovery Psych is not responsible for the content, availability, privacy practices, security, or operation of third-party websites or services except as required by applicable law.

A link to a third-party resource does not necessarily constitute an endorsement.

19. Website Availability

Life Discovery Psych does not guarantee that the Website will operate continuously or without interruption, errors, security incidents, technical problems, or unavailable features.

The Website or portions of it may be modified, suspended, or discontinued for maintenance, security, operational, or other reasons.

20. Disclaimer of Warranties

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the Website and its informational content are provided on an "as is" and "as available" basis.

Life Discovery Psych makes no warranties, express or implied, concerning the Website's uninterrupted availability, accuracy, completeness, reliability, or suitability for a particular purpose.

Nothing in this section limits obligations that cannot legally be excluded or limited.

21. Limitation of Liability

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, Life Discovery Psych and its owners, employees, clinicians, contractors, representatives, and affiliates will not be liable for indirect, incidental, special, consequential, or punitive damages resulting from or related to use of, inability to use, or reliance upon the Website or general informational content.

Nothing in these Terms is intended to waive or limit liability that cannot legally be waived or limited under applicable law.

These limitations concern use of the Website and should not be interpreted as modifying professional duties that may arise separately within an established therapist-client or healthcare provider relationship.

22. Indemnification

To the extent permitted by applicable law, you agree to indemnify and hold harmless Life Discovery Psych and its owners, employees, contractors, and representatives from claims, liabilities, damages, or expenses arising from your unlawful use of the Website, your violation of these Terms, or your infringement of another person's rights.

23. Children's Use of the Website

The Website is intended primarily for individuals seeking information about Life Discovery Psych and its services.

Life Discovery Psych does not knowingly solicit personal information from children through the general public portions of the Website except where appropriate and permitted in connection with professional services and applicable consent requirements.

Parents and legal guardians are responsible for supervising minors' use of publicly available Website content.

Professional services involving minors may be subject to additional consent, confidentiality, and legal requirements.

24. Accessibility

Life Discovery Psych seeks to make its Website and services accessible to individuals with disabilities.

Individuals experiencing difficulty accessing Website content may contact Life Discovery Psych to request reasonable assistance or an alternative method of accessing available information.

25. Governing Law

These Terms and your use of the Website are governed by applicable laws of the United States and, where applicable, the laws of the state in which Life Discovery Psych operates, without regard to conflict-of-law principles.

Nothing in these Terms is intended to override mandatory rights or protections provided by applicable federal or state law.

26. Changes to These Terms

Life Discovery Psych may revise these Terms periodically to reflect changes in Website functionality, services, technology, business practices, or legal requirements.

When changes are made, the revised Terms may be posted on this page with an updated “Last Updated” date.

Continued use of the Website following publication of revised Terms constitutes acceptance of the updated Terms to the extent permitted by applicable law.

27. Severability

If any provision of these Terms is determined to be invalid, unlawful, or unenforceable, the remaining provisions will remain in effect to the fullest extent permitted by law.

28. Entire Agreement Regarding Website Use

These Terms, together with any policies expressly incorporated by reference, constitute the agreement between the user and Life Discovery Psych regarding general use of the Website.

These Terms do not replace clinical informed-consent agreements, telehealth consent documents, financial policies, privacy notices, or other agreements applicable to professional services.

29. Contact Information
